EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Susan Jackson on 4/12/07.

2. The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 2, the paragraphs

"adding verifying information to said document about at least two of the parties to said document in order to validate said document;"

and

"wherein at least two of the parties add respective preselected expiration times to said document in order to validate said document, said other of the parties permitting said communication there between only if the earliest expiration time has not passed."

have been changed to

--adding verifying information about at least two of the parties to said document in order to validate said document;--

and

--wherein at least two of the parties add respective preselected expiration times to said document in order to validate said document, said other of the parties permitting said communication of the confidential information there between only if the earliest expiration time has not passed.--

In claim 24, the paragraph

“wherein at least two of the parties add respective preselected expiration times to said electronic ticket in order to validate said electronic ticket, said other of the parties permitting said communication there between only if the earliest expiration time has not passed.”

has been changed to

--wherein at least two of the parties add respective preselected expiration times to said electronic ticket in order to validate said electronic ticket, said other of the parties permitting said communication of the confidential information there between only if the earliest expiration time has not passed.--

In claim 43, the paragraph

“preventing said other of the parties from permitting said communication of the confidential information unless said document is valid, further comprising computer-executable instructions thereon for performing the steps of receiving and adding a preselected expiration time from each of at least two of the parties to said document in order to validate said document, and preventing said other of the parties from permitting said communication if the earliest expiration time has passed.”

Claims 91-100 have been canceled.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. This action is in response to the communication dated 4/2/2007 with the amendments to claims 2-3, 6, 14-17, 22-24, 26-29, 34, 36-38, 42-44, 46-47, 54-57, 59-63, 69-73, 79-84 and 90-91 and the cancellation of claims 1, 13, 25, 30-31, 41, 53, 58, 68, 78 and 88.
4. Claims 2-12, 14-24, 26-29, 32-40, 42-52, 54-57, 59-67, 69-77, 79-87 and 89-90 are allowed.

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The present invention is directed to a method that permits one or more third-party agents to access customers' private personal and financial data or other confidential information on the world-wide-web. Using the present invention, a tamper-resistant security document, such as an electronic document, known as a ticket, is created and approved by two consenting parties to allow a third party (or even more parties) to access private and confidential personal and financial data on the Internet (world-wide-web). The electronic ticket or other types of security documents can also have a limited lifetime, allowing the consenting parties to control the third party's duration of access (see specification, paragraph 0033) (i.e. "wherein at least two of the parties add respective preselected expiration times to said document in order to validate said document, said other of the parties permitting said communication of the confidential information there between only if the earliest expiration time has not passed" in claims 2, 24, 27, 34, 43, 55, 60, 70 and 80). The closest prior arts fail to anticipate or render the above limitations obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Minh Dieu Nguyen whose telephone number is 571-272-3873.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Emmanuel Moise can be reached on 571-272-3865. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is (571) 273-8300.
